Plan a milestone you'll never forget

Personal

Planning a wedding is a joyful time to celebrate an exciting milestone. But it's easy for wedding costs to add up.

It's important to sit down with your partner and differentiate between wedding "must haves" and "nice to haves" to be better prepared to save for your big day.

Saving Tips

- Set up a short-term savings goal: Saving just $20 a week can add up to over $1,000 a year.
- Save all your change:
 At the end of each day, take all the change from your wallet and place it in a "wedding fund" jar. Just $2 a day from each of you can add up to over $1,000 in a year.
